NATIONAL GUARDSMEN MOBILIZING WITH ZEST

Dispatch to Border of Militiamen Will Release 30,000 Regulars for Service in Mexico.

President Wilson having last night ordered out-for service on the Mexican border-more than 100,000 national guardsmen, in forty-five states and the District of Columbia, the nation has not seen such military activity as today since the Spanish-American war. In issuing the order calling out the militia, through Secretary Baker, President Wilson allowed it to become known that conditions in northern Mexico are alarming. As a result responses from governors of states to President Wilson's call reached the War Department today in rapid

By the time Secretary Baker was at his desk seventeen states had been heard from, announcing that mobilization is in progress. The first states heard from were Oregon, Georgia, Maine, Indiana, Montana, Colorado, Idaho, Illinois, North Dakota, Ohio, Virginia, Washington, Mississippi, Vermont, Tennessee, Missouri and New York. The messages of the governors of the states were substantially identical and followed this general form:

No Estimates of Time.

"Telegram received and mobilization is in progress as directed." None of the messages contained any estimate of the time required to get the troops under arms.

Secretary Baker reiterated today a statement made last night that none of the National Guard affected by last night's order will be sent to the border until Gen. Funston, in command along the Rio Grande, decides when and where he wants the state troops. The men will be held at state mobilization points until mustered into the federal service.

points until mustered into the federal service.

If it develops that the entire force of more than 100,000 men is not immediately desired for border service the units not sent south in the near future, it is stated, probably will be granted furlough until such time as they may be required to relieve the regiments sent in the near future, or to reinforce the border line in the event of open hosthe border line in the event of open hos-tilities with Carranza troops.

Force to be Held Under Arms.

It is certain, however, that the entire force will be held under arms for two weeks or a month, while the prosesses of muster into the federal servhe and of equipment are being worked

In speaking of the orders today, Secrelary Baker reiterated the statement chade last night that the state forces ill be employed only to guard the order. No additional troop movements to Mexico, he said, are contemplated, ept pursuit of raiders by the regarder.

Mobilization of the national guardsmen to support Gen. Funston's line will pave the way for releasing some 30,000 regulars.

In the event of open hostilities with the Carranza government. The guardsmen them selves could not be used beyond the line without authority of Congress and until they had volunteered for that duty, as they are called out under the old militia law. The new law, which would make them available for any duty under the federal government, goes into effect July 1.

The entire mobile regular army in the United States, several provisional regiments of regular coast artillery, serving as infantry, and the National Guard of Texas, New Mexico and Arizona now are on the border or in Mexico. Definite figures have never been made public, but it is understood Gen. Funston has about 40,000 regulars and probably 5,000 or more guardsmen, of whom 12,000 regulars are with Gen. Pershing, or scattered along his line of communications from Namiquipa, Mexico, to Columbus, N. M. Gen. Pershing's recent reports have indicated that he has succeeded in clearing out all organized bands of outlaws in the vicinity of his camps.

Navy Head Takes Precautionary Steps Coincident With Militia Movement.

Coincident with the ordering out last night by President Wilson of the National Guard of the country to assist in patrolling the Mexican border, Secretary Daniels of the Navy Department, it is announced, has taken a "precautionary" movement by ordering seven torpedo boat destroyers and nine other small war vessels to Mexican waters.

These vessels may be used to bring home refugees of American citizenship if necessity should arise. They will join units of the Atlantic and Pacific fleets already stationed on the east and west coasts of Mexico.

Navy officials say recent orders to
